hrist's Gospel, you need only follow the lead of the Rev. De Witt Talmage to bring the ballet and the Bible together in six months! Parson Talmage has done much to degrade his sacred office; but he can go much further. If he desired to picture an old-time wedding he might have heightened it by some of the bld thalamic ceremonies—the bridal music and the posset. He might have had Victor Hugo's "Smiling angel at the door with his ger on his rosy lips." Any of his brother ge managers would have got the machinery, the angel (blonde or brunette) and the calnium light ready for him. In these omissions we have no doubt many of the audience his osters called together were disappointed. He may yet have a baptism or a burial service on the stage, with a real little heathen or a real corpse. They demand scarcely less sacred rites than the marriage ceremony, and as Talmage has sold theatre tickets for the one why not for the others? The proceeds of all this profanation are to go, side by side with the earnings of the good ladies at the fair tables, to build a church for Talmage to officiate in. What sort of a church can it be? Will it have proscenium boxes, parquet and "wings" gallery, footlights, stage, "flies," and dressing rooms like the Academy of Music? It is painful that these questions should follow so naturally on the source from whence the money comes. But Mr. Talmage is responsible and not ourselves. When a minister becomes a buffoon it does not much matter; but when he drags his religion into the circus along with himself and still calls himself a minister, he has dealt a blow to religion which she can ill afford to meet in these days of waning faith. This is what the Rev. De Witt Talmage has done.

TELEGRAMS TO THE NEW YORK HERALD. The following special despatches to the HERALD have been received from our correspondent in the Cuban capital: -

HAVANA, March 26, 1873.

The man Bidwell, was, it appears, arrested on a charge of complicity with the forgeries on the Bank of England at the request of the British government, communicated to the Captain General of Cuba by the Spanish Ministers in Loudon and Washington, who supposed him to be a British subject.

Bidwell is, on the contrary, an American, a native of Indiana. His arrest is not justified by any treaty of extradition between Spain, England or the United States. Such proceedings could be carried out in no other country than Cuba, where the Captain General does not always act in accordance with law. Distinguished lawyers and judges of this city, in conversation with the HERALD correspondent, denounce the act as being utterly illegal and without precedent, except in the case of Arguemes, in the year 1864.

COMMON LAW AND TREATY SET AT DEFIANCE

The gentlemen also declare that it is a vio lation of the laws of Spain and of the treaty stipulations with the United States and in contempt of the guarantees of the law of 1870 relative to foreigners. The same lawyers and judges assert that it would be better that a delinquent should escape than that so bad a precedent as the act of delivery of Bid-

The British Vice Consul obtained, by compulsion, the sum of $5,000 from Mrs. Bidwell, in United States five-twenties. Complaints having been made, the Captain General ordered that the sum should be deposited.

Bidwell is afraid that there exists no guarantees for a due and proper administration of justice here. He has expressed his desire to be sent to New York.

Military Desertion to the Insurgents-Fierce and Bloody Character of the War-Flity-nine Prisoners Executed by Agramonte-"No Quarter" and a Black Flag Message.

HAVANA, March 26, 1873.

Private advices from Remedios report the desertion of a portion of the Cadiz battalion from the Spanish colors and of the men going over to the insurgents. BLOODY RETALIATION AND A MESSAG'S OF DEATH

In a recent engagement which took place the other side of the Old Trocha between Agramonte and the Spanish forces the former took sixty prisoners. He shot fifty-nine of them. One was spared and sent back to take a message to the Spaniards, informing them that, monarchists or republicans, they acted with inhumanity to the insurgents, and that, therefore, the insurgents would retaliate and give no quarter.

THE DREAD REGORD OF JUSTIFICATION.

Agramente had recently returned Colonel Prucunell and several other prisoners to Puerte Principe. Nevertheless Rubalcaba was executed in the latter city. Another version of the affair reports that Agramonte sent Prucunell and others in exchange for the insurgent chief, Emilio Luaces, who had been captured by the Spanish forces, but the fact of the capture not made public.

PROGRESS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

The report that Agramonte has crossed the Trocha is credited here, as reinforcements have been sent to Cincovillas.

Edwin Noyes Under Examination in London-Bank Testimony Against Bidwell. LONDON, March 28, 1873. Edwin Noyes, the American, who is charged with being implicated in the frauds on the Bank of England, was again brought before the Lord Mayor at the Justice Room of the Mansion House to-day for examination. Among the witnesses examined was the manager of the Continental Bank, who upon being shown a photograph of Bidwell ideali-fied him as the party who opened an account with that institution under the name of Horton.

The manager also gave the details of several exwell, and expressed his belief that Noyes was merely a clerk for the really guilty parties. The examination was further adjourned

ANOTHER INTERVIEW.

An interview was had with Boston Charley and Bogus Charley, both of whom came out under the bluffs and evinced a desire to say something. Bogus Charley desired the immediate return of the horses captured by Colonel Biddle, and further stated that he would have come out beyond the limits of the rocks to-day if he had obtained a horse to carry him. It is probable that the Commissioners will send to Yreka and get a new horse for him as a means of testing his

ALL TO SEE THE LAND OF PROMISE.

Another of the Peace Commission will go out with the next scout, and then another, until these peace men have all viewed the promised land from the bluff. It is uncertain how long these gentlemen will stand on Indian etiquette and red tape; but they will probably thus remain until they have been thoroughly fatigued, when the official foot will be put down and this ridiculous farce be brought to an end.

WHAT TERMS TO BE OFFERED NOW?

The members of the Commission well know the terms on which the Modocs will make peace and whether these terms are acceptable to the government, and the general opinion prevails that they could so arrange matters as to make peace at once if they desired to bring the business to a close. What they intend to offer next is unknown, or when they expect to

MILITARY AND CIVIL JEALOUSY.

Some members of the Commission complain that they have been held back by authority and prevented from obtaining an interview with Captain Jack so as to thoroughly entilate the questions at issue themselves. If there is any just ground for this complaint, which I am inclined to doubt, it would seem that there is a little jealousy between the military and civil powers, each, according to the latter, being desirous of the honor of concluding peace. I do not think that such is the case, although on several occasions it has looked that way. Canby is scarcely the man to encourage any such complication.

WHAT THE INDIANS DESIRE.

The Indians tell the interpreters that they will be willing to negotiate for peace if they can have their home on Lost River; probably they might even consent to go to Yianax reservation. Up to the present, however, no effort has been made to effect peace on these

THE JERSEY AND DELAWARE FISHERY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 28, 1873. The Commissioners appointed by the States of New Jersey and Delaware to settle disputes on fishery questions between those States were to have met this afternoon in the Select Council chamber. Fer a long time there has been considerable discussion in reference to this vexed question. The Delawarians think they have a right to require a license of the New Jersey people to fish in a "twelve-mile circle" around Newcastle. This circle covers the whole river of Delaware. They hold they have the right by the grant of the Duke of York to William Penn and their holdings under it. The people of New Jersey, of course, deny this right and say that this conveyance never took place. All the commissioners were present with the exception of Mr. Parker, of New Jersey, and it was decided to transact no business during his absence. The meeting was then adjourned this the 8th of May.

NEW PUBLICATIONS. CHARLES DICKENS' WORKS. A NEW EDITION.

Among the numerous editions of the works of this treatest of English Novelists there has not been until now one that entirely satisfies the public demand. Without exception they each have some strong distinctive objection.

A new edition is this week, however, published by G. W. CARLETON & CO., of New York, which, it is believed will, in every respect, completely satisfy the popular demand. It is known as "CARLETON'S NEW ILLUSTRATED EDITION." The size and form are most convenient for holding. The type is entirely new and of a clear and open character that has received the approval of the reading community in other popular works.

The illustrations are by the criginal artists chosen by Charles Dickens himself, and the paper, printing and binding are of the most attractive and substantial characters.

This beautiful new edition will be completed in twenty volumes—one novel each month—at the extremely reasonable price of $1.50 per volume. of America, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, where game fish are to be found, and imparts the most valuable practical information in such a pleturesque and attractive style that no one can glance at its pages without becoming intused with the author's own enthusiastic love of fishing as a fine art. A large portion of the volume is devoted to Canadian waters, and it includes Labrador, Cape Bretos, the Saguenay and Anticosti. The author's design was to furnish an Angler's Guide; to tell where fish are to be caught, and when, and how; to show the sportsman the shortest routes to pleasure, the best means of convoyance, the expenses thereof and the secrets of the commissariat. Several beautiful illustrations add to the attractiveness of the volume.
