South America experienced very heavy weather she was detained of port. She reports as follows:-

The United States flagship Lancaster, Rear Admiral Taylor, was at Bahia, all hands well. Passed Assistant Surgeon M. C. Drennan is ordered home to be retired, and M. H. Masser ordered north for examination and promotion.

The steamer Patagonia, of the Royal Mail line from Callao and the Pacific to Liverpool, via Rio, &c., was twelve days overdue at Rio, and as other vessels, of the same and other lines, had passed directly in her course and did not see her, she was supposed lost. Much anxiety was felt at Rio and all the coast ports, as she was supposed to have on board a large number of passengers.

The government had issued a general amnesty to all who returned to their allegiance.
Since the issue of this proclamation General Crespo and a number of other leaders of the insurrection have made overtures to the government, and at the date of Governor Gonzales' letter were seeking an interview with General Caceres, commander of the expeditionary forces.

There is no question but that this last movement against Baez has miserably Failed. Yet Luperon is abroad, and while he lives there will probably be no peace in St. Domingo.

THE ELECTIONS.

The Tammany Democracy Triumphant.

The State Legislature Republican, with Greatly Reduced Majorities.

Election day has passed, and, after a severe struggle at the polls, mainly directed and sustained by the candidates themselves, the result has, as far as could be ascertained at a late hour last night, shown a triumph for Tammany over the Apollo and republican alliance. It is certain that the democracy as a whole have achieved an unexpected victory, not only in this city and county, but also in the State-electing the State ticket, the Legis lature, however, remaining republican, with but very small majority.

Re-Election of Governor Washburn and General Success of the Republican Tickets-Great Increase in the Democratic Vote.

BOSTON, NOV. 4, 1873. The elections in all parts of the State to-day have been carried on with but little excitement, even ocal interests not creating as much enthusiasm as on former occasions. Since the retirement of Gen eral Butler at Worcester the most sanguine democrats have lost all hopes of success against the republican candidate, considering the re-election of Washburn certain. But the vote, according to compared with those of 1871 and 1872, and Washburn's plurality will probably not exceed 15,000 over 74,000), showing large democratic gains. Pierce, republican, is elected to Whiting's seat in Congress. The majority of the Legislature, it is supposed, will be opposed to the Prohibition law, notwithstanding the tendencies of the Governor to have it strictly enforced.

The democrats appear to have shown wonderful activity. Gaston carries Boston with a plurality of about 1,500, while the whole of Suffolk gone democratic, followed by Lowell and Worces ter, both of which have for years been republican. Lowell has especially pained the republicans by casting her vote for Gaston. General Banks goes back to the State Senate from the Second Middle sex district, having beaten the regular republi can nominee by a large plurality. His chances for the United States Senate do not look so bright as his friends could wish, but then 1875 is a good way off yet and there is no saying what may occur before then. The prohibitionists do not an Gaston affirms that he derived immense strength in several of the larger towns and cities from the opponents of prohibition. In many parts party lines were totally disregarded, however, and "scratching" and "splitting" became the Pifth Senatorial district John L Stevenson was put forward as the champion of the regular demo-cratic and republican organizations, a man who was to show every shade of opinion and a change of shapes with Proteus to meet emergencies; but the independent citizens pushed their candidate, Jonathan A. Washburn's piurality last year was about 25,000, which the returns, so far, indicate as cut down about one-half at this election.

The republican ticket for State officers is elected, and the republican councillor ticket, together with a republican majority in both branches of the Legislature.

Hanksi plurality for the State Senate is over a republican majority in both branches of the Legislature.

Banks' plurality for the State Senate is over 1,000.

Charles Hale is elected to the Legislature from Boston by a large majority.

The Latest from Boston-Later Re-

BOSTON, NOV. 5-1 A. M.

Politics in Massachusetts do not gilde along so smoothly now as they have during the past few years. The dominant party, the real genuine republican party, has met with a rebuke and criticism right upon the threshold of the very man-sion of its birth, and the verdict is one which cannot fall of having a depressing effect upon the whole national organization. The whole of Boston and Suffolk county entire has gone democratic; and the city of Worcester, the "heart of the Commonwealth," has fallen into the same line of democratication; and Lowell and hburn only goes in for a third time by a majority of probably about 10,000 or 12,000, against a former majority for republican Governors of from 25,000 to 30,000. The Senate has no less than one-25,000 to 30,000. The Senate has no less than onefourth democratic members, and the House of Representatives has its republican complexion weakened in about the same ratio. Besides the real, unadulterated democrats in the Senate there are a few such recreant Greeley men as General Banks, who are elected over the straight out-and-out republicans. General Banks' majority was about 2,000, and it is regarded as a most effectual triumph over the Washburn stripe of politicians.

He was in Boston this evening, and present at a spontaneous congratulation meeting of his friends at Young's Hotel. Among the prominent members of the lower legislative branch is John Quincy Adams, a democrat, elected by an overwhelming majority in a republican district, made vacant by the death of William Whiting

Mayor Pierce has been elected by an aimost unanimous vote. Mayor Pierce has been elected by an almost unanimous vote.

Among the disappointed is Major John W. Mahan, who was ambitious for the Senatorahip from the district including the notorious Fifth ward, in Boston. His reputation as a counsellor and a brave Union warrior inied to command the support which had before carried him into the State and city governments. General Butler went down to Gloucester and voted the straight republican ticket. Nothing has been heard from him this evening, but it is fair to presume that he is not very much gratified over the result of the election. That he has pretty thoroughly disorganized State politics and old line republicans in Massachusetts is admitted in all quarters, and the sequel will be probably developed during the campaign a year hence.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 4-Midnight. The office of Register of Probate and Insolvency was warmly contested, but resulted in the choi of the present incumbent, General Guiney. General William S. King, his competitor, was on the regular republican ticket. Both were distinguished soldiers in the late war.

The municipal election in this city passed off quietly. Twelve precincts heard from give Moffat, republican. for Mayor 680 majority. His entire majority will probably reach 1,000. The republicans elect the City Clerk, Attorney and Director of the Poor. The democrats elect the Police Judge and probably Treasurer and Justice of the Peace. The republicans will have a majority of one or two in the City Gouncil and a majority of the Board of Estimates. MINNESOTA.

Indication of the Election of Governor Davis and the Republican State

Ticket.

St. PAUL. Nov. 4, 1873. The returns of the election, so far, are very meagre, but the indications all point to the elec-tion of the entire republican State ticket by a handsome majority, Davis running ahead of his ticket.

There has been a great deal of scratching. The city returns will not be in until a very late hour, on account of the mixed ballots.

Minnesota elects State officers, one-half the State Senate and a full House of Representatives. The two parties are the republican and the independent, the democrats making no nominations. They, however, formally adopted the previously nominated ticket of the independents. The temperance men nominated a straight ticket, headed by Samuel Marguil, of St. Paul, for Governor. The following are the two principal tickets:—

The other ticket was headed by James L. Alcorn and supported by the democrats. But it has been ascertained that a State election this year might be a violation of the constitution; probably only a Legislature will be chosen.

From all quarters the vote is reported one-third short. The falling off in Jackson was from 500 to 600 votes.

Ames' majority in the city is estimated at 300, which is a small republican reduction.

Returns that are only partial pour in from all sections of the State, cating an overwheiming majority for Kem-per and the conservative candidates throughdoubtful, gives Kemper, so far as the votes are counted, over 1,200 majority, an increase on the Walker vote of 1,130. The ballots will not be all Walker vote of 1,130. The ballots will not be all counted for an hour yet. The headquarters of the Kemper Campaign Club are surrounded by an immense multitude and cannon are being fired at the announcement of each vote. There is a grand pyrotechnic display and the greatest enthusiasm generally prevails. All the mewspaper offices are also surrounded by crowds of cheering conservatives, and there has been no such excitement and triumphant demonstration since the close of the war. The republican headquarters look gloomy. There are only a few negroes and some white men there, all of them appearing despondent and cast down at the disastrous turn affairs have taken. They concede the election of Kemper by as much as 10,000 majority, and have abandoned all hope. In fact, it appears to-night as if republicanism had received its death-blow, not in Virginia alone, but in the whole South. whole South.

I have only a few estimated majorities. Washington county, the home of Colonel Hughes, the republican candidate for Governor, gives Kemper, 1,500 majority, an increase on the Walker vote, in 1860, of 300.

Petersburg, considered hitherto an irredeemable republican city, gives a conservative gain of 400.

Norfolk gives Kemper 323 majority, an increase on the Walker vote of 403.

Norfolk gives Kemper 223 majority, an increase on the Walker vote of 1003.

Fredericksburg gives Kemper 241 majority.

The counties of Rockbridge, Augusta and Shenandoah show increased conservative majorities, while the strictly republican counties show rather a falling off than an increase on the vote of 1800. If these indications hold good, Kemper's majority in the State will exceed the most sanguine expectations of his party, as well as the most extravagant estimates they have made.

Hughes has made a boid and gallant fight; but his efforts to obliterate all lines of race and color have failed, notwithstanding the great assistance of his companions in arms in the Confederate cause. "A white man's government" has been elected beyond all reasonable doubt, and for four years Kemper will, in all probability, be at its head. Like his opponent, flughes, Kemper was a general in the Confederate stary, and leastly under

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 5-12:30 A.M. There was nearly a row at the First precinct in Jackson ward, in this city, to-night. The repul lican judge of elections refused to count the vot unless certain negro members of his party we present as witnesses. This the con mob endeavored to force their way into the office.

The judges then took the ballot box with them, and, under an escort of police, carried it to the nearest police station, but in doing so the police had to discharge their pistols twice over the heads of the begroes to keep them back. The ballot was subsequently carried back to the precinct, where the votes are now being counted in conformity with the election laws. Allowing a large colored majority in this precinct, the conservatives claim the city by 1,650 majority, the largest given since the close of the war.
